New mood in Pleasanton, Amador schools

Relations in the Amador Valley Joint High School and Pleasanton Joint School Districts may have been forever changed during the preceeding 12 months.

Feelings were aggravated with the advent of collective bargaining and, as a result, discourse between and amongst teachers, central district office personnel, classified employes and top administration has been visibly strained.

At year's end neither district had settled on a contract for 1976-77, either classified or certificated.

The negotiations process has overshadowed the academic program, the defeat of a revenue tax increase measure last March, discussion of cuts and partial restoration of program, maturation of Foothill High as a full four-year school, continuing problems of maintenance and vandalism, the dismissal hearing of Amador teacher Miriam Wain, and commencing of the transfer of principals policy.

Aside from the latter action, which found former Alisal School principal and Valley View principal John Bristow switching schools, personnel changes both at the building and top administration levels have been few.

Along with Superintendent Bruce Newlin and assistant superintendents Neil Sweeney, Carl Krause and Doug Rose, the administration team continues with Dr. Dave Carlisle, director of research and development; Gloria Jones, director of pupil personnel services; Mike Connolly, adult education; Roy Isler, Regional Occupational Program; Sandy Sandoval, vocational program; Bob Scruggs, instructional media.

Activation of the Educational Employment Relations Board (EERB) led to laying down of ground rules for collective bargaining.

Budget tight but tax hike not likely

PLEASANTON — It's too early to have exact figures on next year's budget, but the prospect of new contracts with employes raises the chance of an even tighter budget next year.

Salary negotiations are the big unknown this year, according to City Manager Bill Edgar. The city has more than 200 employes and all are represented by employe organizations who will begin negotiating with management this spring. The city budget is 70 to 80 per cent personnel costs so the coming negotiations have to be important when the city manager draws up next year's budget.

All city employes belong to the Pleasanton City Employes Association except the firefighters who have their own union. The police officers are in the process of affiliating with Operating Engineers Local 3, which already counts Livermore police among its members.

There won't be any new capital improvement projects on the list next year, something that has been true since the Sewer Freeze of 1971. All the city council can do is go with the priorities established or shuffle them around as needs arise. In fact, the council will be looking at some street traffic and traffic safety device priorities next Monday night, said Edgar.

This year's budget was "very austere", said Edgar, as they have been for the past five or six years. Only one half of 1 per cent of the $8 million budget was eliminated this year, he noted.

There was an attempt by council members Ken Mercer and Frank Brandes to eliminate a few more per cent and prevent the five cent tax increase imposed by the council. They lost, but from recent statements about city expenditures, it looks like they'll bring the same attitude to next year's budget. Whether or not they'll get a third vote this time remains to be seen.

Mercer even suggested that each council member pick one department and familiarize himself or herself with it so that at next budget time he or she could fill in the rest of the council on little details about the budget. Other council members thought the idea might be good in theory, but would be awfully time - consuming in practice and it was not adopted.

The city's current tax rate is $1.86. Four cents of it pays off general obligation bonds. The other $1.82 is the general tax rate and is affected by Senate Bill 90, a complicated formula which tells each city what its maximum tax rate can be. Under the formula, Pleasanton's current ceiling is $1.85.

That limit means the city can raise the tax rate another three cents, which would bring in another $40,000. The city can raise the ceiling only if the increase in assessed valuation in a given year is lower than the combined total of its population increase and the cost of living increase.

Arrest after car wreck— one dead

SAN RAMON — A 19-year-old Dublin man was killed and another man injured when their car went out of control and struck a utility pole on Dougherty Road early yesterday.

Home rule campaign

New power for San Ramon Valley

MARTINEZ — Efforts to give unincorporated communities "home rule" in planning matters are again surfacing.

This time, however, backers predict chances are better than ever that the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors will form local planning commissions to process and approve building applications now handled by the county Planning Commission.

Two supervisors - elect, Robert Schroder of Walnut Creek and Eric Hasseltine of Danville, support the idea.

A similar proposal three years ago was never acted upon by the board of supervisors. The county planning staff opposed the idea, and a study presented to the supervisors recommended that if a local commission were to be formed, it should be on a trial basis only.

The county planning staff is reviewing the current proposal with regard to personnel needs and costs.

Schroder said he intends to make local planning commissions one of his first orders of business when he takes office in January. He plans meetings with members of the Orinda Association and Chamber of Commerce to discuss the proposal.

Both Dale Hatfield, outgoing president of the Orinda Association, and Joyce Hawkins, chairwoman of the Orinda Planning Committee, are recommending that their community push for its own planning commission.

A proposal by the Orinda Association to form a community business district with a design review board is now being examined by the county planning staff.

If approved by the supervisors, this proposal would give Orinda "home rule" in the downtown business district, Hatfield said.

The local planning commission would then only review residential planning, he added.

Orinda and San Ramon Valley both have committees that advise the county on planning matters, but they have no real power.

As proposed, local planning commissions would have the same power as the Contra Costa County Planning Commissions.

Decisions could be appealed to the board of supervisors, as is now the case with the county planning commission.

The county commission consists of seven members, five nominated by the supervisors individually and two nominated by the board as a whole.

Neighbor arrested in theft of presents

LIVERMORE — A 21-year-old Colusa Way resident has been arrested in connection with the burglary of Christmas presents and other valuables from a house next door to his.

Dean A. Kelso, 21, of 638 Colusa Way was arrested yesterday and booked on suspicion of burglary.

According to reports, Phyllis Elaine Early of Colusa Way returned to her home about 10:45 Friday night and discovered it had been burglarized. Police said burglars had apparently kicked in a side garage door, then forced open a door leading into the house.

Missing items included numerous Christmas presents taken from under her tree, a 19-inch color television set and other valuables totalling more than $400.

A neighbor who had been questioned earlier by police about the burglary became suspicious of presents he received from a roommate and showed them to the victim. She identified them as those taken from her home, police said.

Police responded and collected other items apparently stolen from next door. These included a smoke alarm, camera, shaver, and a color television set.

The investigation is continuing.

Man arrested for PCP possession

PLEASANTON — Police yesterday arrested a 27-year-old leasantor man allegedly driving under the influence of an animal tranquilizer.

A motorist flagged down officers about 1:15 Monday morning and said he was being followed all over town by another car he did not recognize. Police spotted the vehicle and followed as it reportedly weaved from side to side while traveling up Main Street.

Officers said the sspect thought he was "chasing around a girl in the other car," but was instead pursuing a man.

The suspect failed several field sobriety tests, and allegedly said he had smoked PCP. A search revealed a single handrolled cigarette suspected to contain the drug, police said.

Arrested on suspicion of possessing a dangerous drug and driving while intoxicated was Craig Patrick Fabry, 27, of 3596 Norton Way.

Ring taken from kitchen drainboard

LIVERMORE — A $225 gold ring was apparently taken from a Regent Road home by burglars, police reported.

Woodsman sparing the tree?

Criminal charges have been filed against a Danville man who allegedly shorted people who bought firewood from him.

Deputy District Curtis Hoffman filed the misdemeanor charges Monday against M. A. Gompertz, claiming that the wood dealer had violated sectiions of the state Business and Professions Code which prohibits selling anything in less measure that it is represented to be.

Hoffman said undercover buyers for his office ordered a mixture of oak wood and mill ends priced at $35 for half a cord.

The wood that was delivered in one case was 41 per cent short.

In the other case, all oak wood was ordered at $47 for half a cord, but both oak and mill ends were delivered, and that was 17 per cent short, Hoffman said.

Hoffman noted that Gompertz was successfully presecuted for shorting customers on firewood a year ago. He was fined $110 and given six months' probation.

District Attorney William O'Malley noted that people buying firewood should be certain they are getting the amount of wood they contract to buy.

The California Highway Patrol said young Houdon was driving west on Castlewood Drive about 4 p.m. when his motorcycle collided with an auto driven by Mike Michelson of Fremont. The accident occured in front of the pro shop at the Castlewood Valley Course.

New feelings in school

The Educational Employment Relations Act made April 1 the effective date for representation claims. With the exception of the San Ramon Valley Unified School District, this proved of little consequence to valley districts as all have one dominant teachers unit the California Teachers Association affiliates. Negotiations on a 1976-77 officially began July 1.

Both administration (With Keith Breon serving as counsel for both boards) and teacher unit leaders (Tom Zach in Pleasanton and Jim Eaton in Amador) quickly found that procedural language and interpretation of guidelines bogged down negotiating teams and heightened an adversary relationship.

As the year wore on the respective negotiations seemed to move slower, become more formal with an ever-widening breach.

Negotiations on a 1976-77 contract moved into mediation as binding arbitration of grievances became the central issue. In addition to the salary schedule, teachers and administration were also apart on agency fees, assignment and transfer policy, hours and evaluations.

While Pleasanton teacher unit leaders utilized shows-of-strength at board meetings, occasional general membership meetings and a Newlin-Zach discussion on videotape to register their feelings, the Amador teacher leadership was somewhat more direct.

Amador arbitrarily called a minimum day in October to illustrate their concern over lack of progress in talks and the administration's scheduling of minimum days.

Eaton claimed approximately 90 per cent participation by teachers.

The action brought letters of reprimands from the administration which later triggered a search of personnel files, demonstrations, charges of falsified signatures on evaluation forms and, ultimately, filing of a law suit in Alameda County Superior Court.

All the while, mediation attempts floundered as both teacher units called for fact-finding, the next step in the collective bargaining process.

Mrs. Wain, previously a choral music teacher in the Amador district for 10 years, was presented with a statement of charges (8 pages) and a declaration of intention to dismiss in April.

As provided for in the Education Code, Mrs. Wain asked for a hearing. The hearing began in late August but was continued until November.

During the course of the hearing, Mrs. Wain was assigned to teaching of business and English classes at Amador Valley High School. The hearing was finally completed in early December but a decision has yet to be rendered.

Both districts have tax revenue increase elections on the March ballot, the stated purpose being for maintenance and operation of schools.

Despite a concerted effort in the way of campaign committees, presentation of informational it issuing of "backgrounder" fact sheets to the media and public, and endorsements of three valley newspapers, both measures were voted down.

Both required simple majority votes and the tally in Pleasanton was extremely close, 3,645 "no" and 3,614 "yes."

Final count in the Amador district was a decisive 7,206 "no" and 5,897 "yes."

Foothill High School officially became a four-year school with the opening of classes in September.

Boosters are working to collect funds to provide lights and bleachers for the school athletic field.

Safe in their own homes

One New Year's resolution all senior citizens should make, according to the Alameda County commission on aging, is to make sure they're safe in their homes.

There are some simple safety pointers that may save the elderly from the nightmare of being alone and helpless after a home accident. Here they are:

— Have a telephone. This is not a luxury. It is your lifeline.

—Have a buddy. Keep in touch daily.

—Have more than one buddy. If one is not at home the other may be. Plan a time to call your buddy each day.

— Have telephone numbers of doctor, close relatives or friends attached to the telephone, written on adhesive or masking tape.

— Notify your buddy or your emergency person if you expect to be away from home for more than the usual time for visiting, marketing or traveling.

— Always carry proper identification with you — your name, address and home phone number. Also name, address and telephone number or those to call in case of emergency.

— Watch traffic signals. Always remember, "The life you save may be your own."

— Observe safety measures in your home. No loose sleeves when preparing meals; no loose cords from lamps on the floor; no throw rugs if walking is difficult; be sure gas burners are turned off properly. Good ventilation is important.

— Call the fire department first in case of emergency when an aspirator and oxygen are needed; then call the doctor. The fire department can usually get there before an ambulance or physician and their personnel are trained and equipped with emergency apparatus.

— Your local Safety Council and the National Safety Council have helpful information, films and pamphlets for good safety programs. Have an active Safety Committee in your club and community.

Signals going up

PLEASANTON — Work will begin soon on traffic signals at First and Neal streets.

The city council awarded the bid recently to the low bidder on the project, Steiny and Co. which will do the job for $33,563 compared to the engineer's estimates of $38,650. The firm has its headquarters in Vallejo and installed signals at Hopyard Road and Valley Avenue and at Hopyard Road and West Las Positas Boulevard.

Brown to Meet Hayakawa in Sacramento

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund Brown Jr. and S.I. Hayakawa have scheduled a two-hour meeting today, their first meeting since Hayakawa was elected to the U.S. Senate on Nov. 2.

The Democratic governor plans to appoint Hayakawa, a Republican, to the Senate when Democrat John Tunney resigns about a day before his term expires at the end of the year.

Tunney has agreed to step down early, so that Brown's appointment will give Hayakawa seniority over other freshmen senators.

The meeting is scheduled in the governor's office from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Sending the birds home

Vince Teresi (with hat) of San Jose and Lee Lish, Milpitas, stopped on Vallecitos Road yesterday to give their pigeons a workout. Both are members of the Santa Clara Valley Pigeon Club, an organization which races the birds. At every training session, Lish and Teresi transport their racers farther and farther from home, then send the birds on their way back to the roost. The buildup is for a race next year beginning in Idaho.

At the next practice, the birds will be released somewhere near the Livermore Veteran's Administration hospital for the flight back to San Jose.

Lish and Teresi are part of a racing group with members in Alameda, Santa Cruz, Santa Clara and Monterey counties.

New Year's resolution: Kick the cigarette habit!

lifestyle

Cigarette smokers who are serious about kicking the habit and want to have fun at the same time — are invited to join the American Cancer Society's "Kiss Me, I Don't Smoke-a-thon" and resolve to quit smoking for 14 days beginning Monday, Jan. 3.

The Smoke-a-thon is a light-hearted — but earnest — effort to help smokers quite, according to Livermore's Geneva Humphrey, president-elect of the Alameda County ACS Unit. "It takes over where the society's very successful Great American Smokeout left off. We found out from the one-day Smokeout that many people are really interested in quitting for good, not just for one day.

"The Cancer Society also has a money-raising motive behind the Smoke-a-thon," Mrs. Humphrey explains. "Participants will collect pledges from their friends, co-workers and family members to sponsor their effort to quit smoking for a certain amount of money each day as a contribution to the society."

The society's main thrust to encourage participation will be with business and industry, where letters have gone out county-wide and interest appears to be growing.

Title Realty, with 40 employes, was the first company to get behind this program, and Realtor Rigmor Samuelson already has obtained nearly $400 in pledges from clients, friends and her boss.

Businesses are urged to contact the American Cancer Society office at 832-7012 or 357-1961. Local residents may contact Mrs. Humphrey at 447-1709, Carma Nordyke at 447-1553 or the answering service at 447-2222.

Smokers who send in pledges after the Smoke-a-thon will receive the official "Kiss Me, I Don't Smoke" button. Backsliders who don't succeed in abstaining from smoking for all 14 days may send in pledges for the days they did not smoke and receive the button "Kiss Me, I Tried."

The American Cancer Socity offers these tips to smokers who plan to participate in the 14-day Smoke-a-thon Jan. 3 to Jan. 17, and kick the habit of smoking.

- Use the buddy system. Persuade a friend to quit with you and you'll support each other.
- For the next two weeks, wrap all of your cigarette packs individually as presents. Each time you want a cigarette, unwrap one of your packages. Write down what you are doing, how you feel and how important this cigarette is to you.
- Don't buy your cigarettes by the carton. You'll never make it with a big supply on hand.
- If you have a sudden craving to a smoke, take ten deep breaths and hold the last breath while you strike a match. Exhale slowly, blowing out the match. Pretend the match was a cigarette by crushing it in an ashtray. Then immediately get busy on some kind of work or play.

Kiwanis to hear Gaskill

The Kiwanis Club will hear a talk by James R. Gaskill, President of ACAMR, Tuesday, Dec. 28 at the Livermore Holiday Inn.

ACAMR (Alameda County Association for the Mentally Retarded) is a United Way Agency serving the mentally retarded and other developmentally handicapped citizens. It also acts as one of the case managers for the East Bay Regional Center for Alameda and Contra Costa counties.

There are an estimated 45,000 citizens of Alameda County who suffer some kind of developmental disability due to birth defects or injury.

The public is welcome to the 7 p.m. meeting.

Presidential aide is Exchange Club guest

Gregory J. Newell of Hayward, staff assistant to President Gerald Ford, will be the guest of the Exchange Club of the San Ramon - Amador Valley on Thursday, Dec. 30 at the Hungry Hunter in Pleasanton.

The public is welcome to the noon meeting.

Since his appointment to the White House Staff in May, 1975, Newell's responsibilities have included the detailed coordination of all presidential travel — domestic, international, official, political and personnel. He also coordinated travel for ther related White House elements for those trips. These include the U.S. Secret Service, White House Communications Agency, Press Corps and Military Office of President, Editorial Editorial Research and State Department.

Newell has traveled nearly 320,000 miles to every state, addressing the needs of political and official figures pertaining to the President. Involved in arranging the President's world conferences and summit meetings, he has met personally with President Miki of Japan, Schmidt of Germany, Callahan of England, Sadat of Egypt, Morro of Italy, Trudeau of Canada and D'Estaing of France.

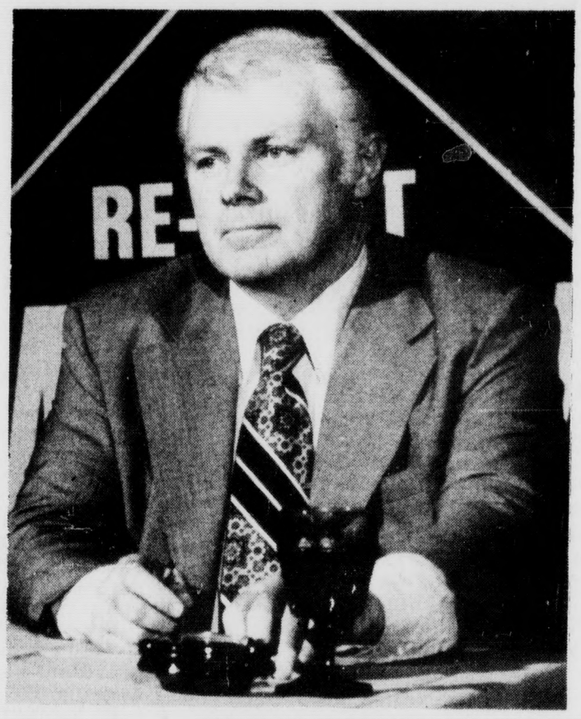
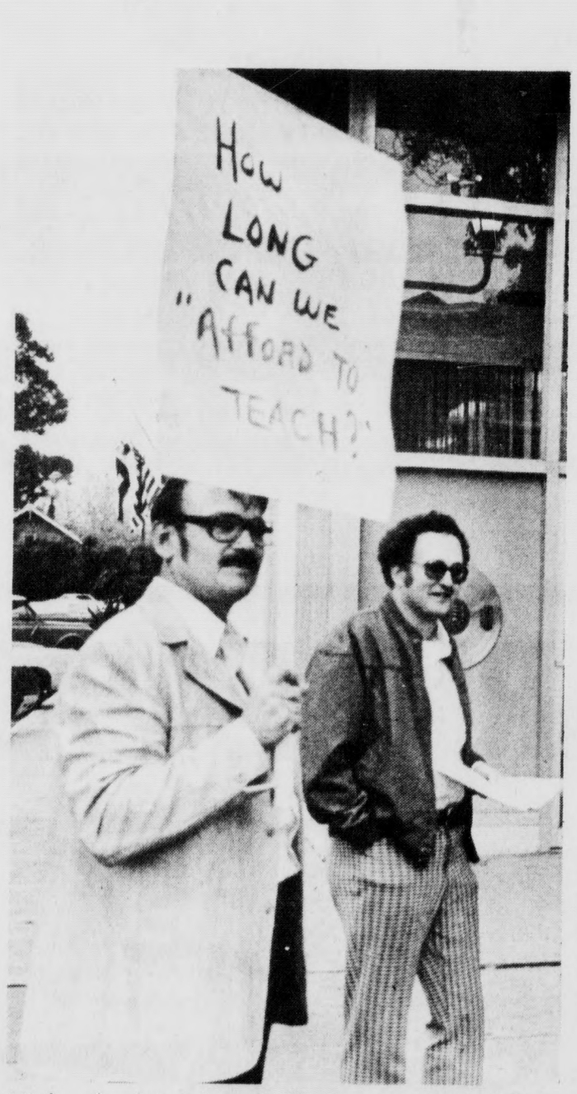
Year's top California news story, as voted by the Associated Press, was the hijack of a Chowchilla school bus containing 26 youngsters and a driver. All the hostages were buried alive in this trailer, beneath the ground at the Cal Rock quarry in Livermore. All of the hostages escaped. Three suspects face kidnapping charges in Alameda County.

Political upheaval hit the Alameda County Board of Supervisors when Valerie Raymond unseated 16-year veteran John Raymond in the First District race Nov. 2. Murphy was either the Valley's best friend, or the epitome of political cronyism. It depended on your viewpoint. Raymond was the once-defeated upstart who couldn't keep her backyard clean, but promised to clean up the county board.



1976— Year in pictures

A costly blunder by combined fire fighting forces sent the historic Fallon House' ramshackle dwelling of a Dublin pioneer, up in flames. The firemen were instructed to burn a battered old building for training purposes. Through a series of communication snafus, Fallon House was torched. In Pleasanton, one of the firemen involved was demoted, then won his position back through a city hearing. In Dublin, they are raising money to build a Fallon House replica.



High school teachers in Pleasanton carried their bargaining plea to the streets. In Livermore and Dublin as well, teachers are still engaging administrators in negotiations over this year's contract.

The Alameda County Fair was picketed by striking county employes, and the result was an abandoned two-week thoroughbred racing schedule. Loss of racing revenues is still being felt by the county fair association, which is implementing economy measures to ease the crisis.

Dr. Lamb

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am 59, female, married and have high blood pressure around 175. I am worried about strokes or a heart attack, but my faith believes only "God" is the greatest of all physicians. I wonder if you can buy something over the counter at a drug store?

DEAR READER — If you belong to the faith I think you might, you may be interested to know the lady who founded the faith wore glasses — but I don't know where she bought them.

You should be concerned about your blood pressure as it does increase the chances that you could have either a stroke or heart attack or other disorders associated with diseased arteries.

I usually prefer to see a person with high blood pressure improve his or her living patterns first if that can be done. If you have any amount of fat at all under your skin, go on a sensible diet and exercise daily. At least try to walk 30 minutes to an hour a day. Walk in two sessions if you need to, in order to not be uncomfortable.

The weight loss often lowers a person's blood pressure, and when it is successful it is far better for you than any medicines available for moderate elevations of blood pressure.

Also you should avoid coffee, tea and colas, as well as cigarettes.

None of these measures should conflict with your faith. I know of no Christian religion that is against a good healthy diet program, exercise and avoiding cigarettes, coffee and tea.

To give you more information I am sending you The Health Letter number 1-8, Blood Pressure. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Do you have any information pertaining to appendicitis and how to prevent it? Also I would like to know if an operation is the only answer if a person has an appendicitis attack?

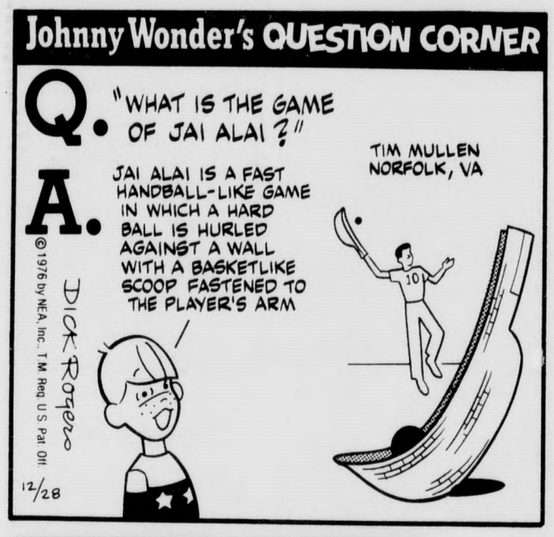
DEAR READER — We have no definite information on how to prevent attacks of appendicitis. Dr. Burkitt and others who have studied the effects of cereal fiber bulk in the diet believe that appendicitis is rare in people who have sufficient cereal fiber in their diet. These investigators believe appendicitis is just one of many diseases that we suffer because of our modern bulkless diet that leads to poor colon function.

Appendicitis may be confused with several other medical conditions. These include the pain a girl may have related to ovulation, or inflammation of large lymph nodes inside the abdomen in either sex.

Once a case of appendicitis is definitely diagnosed most doctors agree that the only treatment is surgical. If the patient is severely ill for any reason, a period of patient preparation may be required. This can be required if the appendix has already ruptured. Otherwise, one of the few conditions for delaying surgery would be a very recent heart attack or similar severe illness.

In general doctors do not think trying to abort the attack with antibiotics is acceptable. The risks are too great.

Johnny Wonder's QUESTION CORNER



Q. "WHAT IS THE GAME OF JAI ALAI?"
A. JAI ALAI IS A FAST HANDBALL-LIKE GAME IN WHICH A HARD BALL IS HURLED AGAINST A WALL WITH A BASKETLIKE SCOOP FASTENED TO THE PLAYER'S ARM
TIM MULLEN

Jai alai (pronounced HIGH a LIE) is a game similar to handball, except the players use a long, basketlike scoop to catch and hurl the ball.

This fact, dangerous game is played with a small, hard rubber ball covered with leather. The basketlike scoop, called a cesta, is strapped to the player's arm.

The game is played in a large three-walled court. The rules of the game are simple:

The server hits the ball against the wall by hurling it with his cesta. The ball travels at terrific speeds, often as fast as 150 miles an hour.

His opponent must catch and return the ball either before it hits the floor, or on the first bounce, and the server must then hit it back.

If the opponent misses his catch, the server gets a point. If the server misses, the serve goes to the opponent.

A singles game usually consists of six points.

Jai alai is popular in Spain, Latin America and in Florida.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) It will take imaginative measures to circumvent your opposition today, but you can do it if you put your bright mind to work early.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You will be more motivated today if you think in terms of the rewards for your labor, rather than of the difficulty of your task.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) It's possible you'll encounter a situation today where you can't please everyone. Stay in harmony with those who really count.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Major aims can be achieved today, but perhaps not with the totality you hoped for. Don't let partial success serve as an alibi to quit.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It's important to make a few concessions today if you hope to gain from others. "Arbitration" and "concession" are key words for you.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) In business today, if you can't attain the position you desire at least bargain for residual or side benefits.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) A close associate is trying to do something for your own good today, but your obstinancy will make it tough for him.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Persistency is all that's required to get past the roadblocks today. Full speed ahead, for the gains are worth the effort.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) As an organizer you're quite competent today as long as you don't try to gild the lily. Keep it down to the basics.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You may fumble the ball a few times today, but don't be too upset about it. You're a good closer and you'll finish strong.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) If there's an important matter confronting you today, don't get advice from one source only. Obtain as many divergent views as possible.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Financial matters are very interesting for you, but also complicated. It appears you may lose in one area, but gain in two others.

Opening lead — 7 ♣

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Here is the fastest played hand of 1976. At least the play was fast after trick one.

West did study before leading the seven of clubs and South went into a real executive session before playing from dummy.

His problem was to decide if West was actually leading from the king in order to force South to make a decision at trick one.

Finally, South decided that West was not that kind of a mean defender, so South went up with dummy's ace.

When the ace dropped East's singleton king South had no problem in the play of the trump suit. He would be sure of his contract if he didn't lose a trick to the king of spades to be followed by a club ruff so South played his ace of trumps, dropped the second singleton king and made an overtrick.

Incidentally, we don't think much of West's opening lead. While West did have a very unattractive choice of opening leads we would rather lead as unbid suit (hearts or diamonds) instead of playing the one bid by dummy.

Ask the Jacobys

A reader from New Mexico wants to know what is meant by the expression, "A passive lead."

A passive lead is one designed to protect your own high cards. As an example, suppose the opponents reach six notrump and you hold two kings and a queen. The passive lead would be in the suit without an honor.

(Do you have a question for the experts? Write "Ask the Jacobys" care of this newspaper. The Jacobys will answer individual questions if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are enclosed. The most interesting questions will be used in this column and will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.)

OAKLAND — There was no key play, per se, in the Oakland Raiders' 24-7 win over the Pittsburgh Steelers in Sunday's American Conference championship game at the Coliseum.

Certainly Willie Hall's diving interception of a Terry Bradshaw pass and 26-yard runback was telling in the second quarter. And way back in the first period, journeyman running back Hubert Ginn skimmed around the right side of the Steeler blocking to deflect Bobby Walden's punt.

The kick traveled just 19 yards and gave the Raiders sterling field position at the Pittsburgh 38. Oakland moved the ball only 16 yards, but it was enough for an Errol Mann field goal that put the Raiders in the unusual position of staying ahead all the way.

For Ginn, whose zealous sepcial teams play has caused both excitement and anxiety for the Raiders since his acquisition mid-way through the regular season, it was a strong contribution to a victory that sends the Raiders, equipped with seven one-time cast-offs into the Super Bowl for the first time since 1967.

Mann and Ginn, along with kick-returner Carl Garrett, running back Manfred Moore, linebackers Rodrigo Barnes and Floyd Rice and defensive end John Matuszak were all picked up along the way by Oakland's Super Bowl Local and all played Sunday.

The jump from the unemployment line to a shot at football's world championship doesn't awe Ginn, who played in one Super Bowl with the Miami Dolphins. He played very little, of course, behind since-departed Jim Kiick and Larry Czonka.

"Yeah, I been there before," Ginn said. "But I missed one that the Dolphins played in, too. I figure this is the one I missed."

When he was signed by the Raiders, Hubie didn't let Oakland's image as the bridesmaid of the American Conference worry him.

"Before I came here, I used to think about how the Raiders had come so close, so many times and not made it. I didn't let it bother me though — if you give your all to the game of football, you'll get there."

Much of the pre-game speculation surrounded a player accused of giving perhaps a little more to the game than the rules call for — Raider safety George Atkinson. Made the villian of Oakland's 31-28 opening game win over the Steelers, Atkinson considered Sunday's game a vindication.

"I want to tell all the critics out there, eastern critics and local critics ... EAT YOUR WORDS," he began in a fair emulation of a television wrestler berating his next opponent. "You talkin' about how dirty Oakland is — Pittsburgh played dirty today, they hit Snake (quarterback Ken Stabler, who suffered bruised ribs in the fourth quarter) after the play and hurt him."

He continued, "We beat the world champs, but the next thing the critics are going to say is that Franco Harris and Rocky Bleier didn't play. Well that's just too bad — the next stop is Pasadena." Make no mistake, however, the Raider secondary hasn't pulled in its talons. Lynn Swann, who suffered a concussion at the hands of an Atkinson forearm in the first game, came up swinging after a particularly violent Jack Tatum tackle and substitute cornerback Neal Colzie berated Swann after a number of Bradshaw passes to the Bay Area product had fallen incomplete or been batted away.

Swann was puzzled by one set of licks he took after carrying a Bradshaw pass 24 yards on the final play of the game — a few from the fans swarming around him as he gave up a try for a last-minute TD at the Raider 10-yard line.

"The fans took some swings at me at the end," he said. "I guess it was just the Oakland fans' frsutration coming out, although I don't know what they've got to be frustrated about."

The Steelers, minus Bleier and Harris who were out with a sprained toe and bruised ribs respectively, were frustrated in their efforts to make a one-back offense work. With Frenchy Fuqua, also hurt, making infrequent appearences, Pittsburgh went with three tight ends and two wide receivers, leaving Reggie Harrison as the lone setback.

Swann thought the Steelers could've made the formation, which outgained Oakland's more conventional set-up by nine yards, a winner given time to work the bugs out.

"Oakland had a lot of guys out on defense," he began, "But they had a chance to adjust to the three-man line early. They had to live with it, so they made it work.

"We only had a week. I think we could've adjusted with more time."

Pittsburgh quarterback Bradshaw disagreed.

"I don't like that offense," he said, adding with a tired grin, "I like Rocky and Franco. But you've got to give (Pittsburgh head coach) Chuck Noll a lot of credit for putting something together for us in a week."

Mats scramble, lose

by Brian Martin

TRACY — The Lincoln High School Trojans whistled Dixie all the way home.

But the one whistle the Granada Matadors would have dearly loved to have sounded never occured.

The Stockton school, snuffing a final four-second chance by Granada, clung to 56-55 win over the Matadors last night in the first round of the Tracy Invitational Basketball Tournament here.

With four seconds to play, Jeff Evert connected on 15-foot jumper to finalize the score. The Trojans then threw away the in-bounds pass, giving the Mats one last chance to steal the victory.

Joey Wujek inbounded to Evert again, but this time Jeff's 15-footer was an air ball, landing in a crowd of players beneath the basket two ticks from the end.

While the mad scramble for the loose ball was blasted by yells of "foul" from the Granada bench, nobody got possession before the buzzer went off, and no foul was called.

Granada trailed throughout most of the first three quarters, before finally displaying some interest in the game. Facing a 43-38 third quarter deficit, the Mats started to fly.

Scoring the first eight points of the fourth quarter, Granada led for the first time since the opening period, 46-43. A technical foul shot by Dan Lambert, two field goals and a free throw by Wujek and a Vance Rushing lay-in off an assist from Kim Curtis gave the Mats that cushion with 4:19 to play.

The lead changed hands seven times in the frantic fial four minutes, but Lincoln got two key free throws from Bob Johnson with 13 seconds left to give them a 56-53 lead that stood up.

Wujek scored 14 points to lead Granada while Lambert played his finest game of the year and bucketed 13 points, including five field goals in the third quarter that kept the Mats within striking distance. Tom Spadafore led all scorers with 17 Trojan points, while Paul Riggs netted 14.

The Mats drop into today's losers' bracket game at 1:30 p.m. with Oroville, 57-45 losers to Stagg of Stockton yesterday.

Early birds to see bowl

OAKLAND — The Oakland Raider management is faced with the Rosey equivalent of squeezing a square peg into a round hole in the week before the players begin final preparations for the Super Bowl in Pasadena January 9 at 12:30 p.m.

The Raiders, who number some 51,000 season ticket holders among the black-sock waving mobs who cheer them on each week, have been alloted just 15,000 seats for Super Bowl XI, their first since Super Bowl II turned into a 33-14 loss to Green Bay.

Thus, a priority sale to season ticket holders which begins tomorrow at 7 a.m. in the Coliseum Exhibit Hall will feature certain restrictions.

Holders of one or two Raider season tickets will be unaffected, since they'll be entitled to the same number — providing tickets are left when they present themselves at the sale. But, those holding three to eleven ducats will find themselves cut back to just a pair while holders of a dozen or more will be allowed four.

Hunter leads 20-9 Irish romp

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Al Hunter, the only runner in Notre Dame history to gain 1,000 yards in one season, scored a pair of one-yard touchdowns in the first half and led the Fighting Irish to a 20-9 victory over penalty-plagued Penn State in the Gator Bowl Monday night.

Hunter, who gained 1,058 yards during the regular season, scored in each of the first two periods. Dave Reeve kicked a pair of 23-yard field goals, one on the final play of the half, as 15th-ranked Notre Dame piled up a 20-3 halftime lead.

The Irish finished the campaign with a 9-3 record. Penn State, which was tied for 20th in the ratings, wound up 7-5, the most losses since a 5-5 mark in Joe Paterno's first year as head coach a decade ago.

Penn State took a 3-0 lead on Tony Capozzoli's 26-yard field goal midway through the opening period. Then Notre Dame's defense, seventh-best in the nation against the run, took over and stifled the Nittany Lions.

Led by linebackers Bob Golic, Doug Becker and Steve Heimkreiter and strong safety Jim Browner, the Irish clamped down on Penn State's offense. They never let the Lions beyond their own 32 in the first half after their initial possession.

And despite good yardage in the second half, Penn State was unable to score a touchdown until Bruce Clark blocked a punt deep in Notre Dame territory with 9:14 left in the game. Chuck Fusina passed eight yards to Matt Suhey for the score.

A 65-yard kickoff return by Terry Eurick got Notre Dame started following Penn State's field goal and Hunter put the Irish in front to stay 10 plays later with a burst through the left side. The Lions helped out with a key offsides penalty, one of several costly infractions.

They also were socked with a 15-yard personal foul penalty that moved the football to their 13-yard line four plays before Hunter's second touchdown made it 17-3 with 2:20 left in the second quarter.

And 17 seconds before the half, they were charged with punt interference, giving Notre Dame the ball at the Penn State 32. Rick Slager quickly passed 26 yards to Dan Kelleher and two plays later Reeve booted his second field goal as the gun sounded.

Help for ex-offenders

WALNUT CREEK — People who are now, or have been, in county jails, state or federal prisons can receive various types of aid from a non-profit, community based organization called Friends Outside.

Assistance is also provided to families of men and women in jail.

The Contra Costa Chapter of Friends Outside was established n 1969 by Don and Dorothy Fibush.

Originally headquarters were at the Fibush home in Rossmoor. In 1971, the organization secured office space in the library of the Hillcrest Church, Pleasant Hill.

In January 1975, Friends Outside began renting its own house on the corner of North Main St. and Geary Rd. in Walnut Creek. This house provides office space, food pantry, clothing closet and drop-in center. It is supported by community donations.

The organization was staffed entirely by volunteers during its first four years of existence. Today it is a volunteer organization under the administration of salaried personnel.

There are five purposes to the group.

1. To assist the family with changes in their lifestyle by exploring new options and supporting family members in new life decisions.

2. To act as a bridge in contacts with agencies such as probation, parole, welfare and job placement.

3. To develop community resources hoping to cut down on red tape in order to obtain services as quickly as possible for the families in need.

4. To offer friendship through planned social and recreational activities.

5. To meet emergency material needs for food, clothing and shelter, furniture and transportation.

Present programs include: counseling, family visiting, women's groups, jail visiting, transportation, crisis intervention, inter-agency contacts and a speaker's bureau.

They always welcome families in need, volunteers, monetary gifts, canned foods, good casual clothing and good used furniture.

Grass-roots volunteers are needed as family visitors, jail visitors, transportation volunteers, speakers to organizations, office volunteers, and contributors.

If you need help or can offer help, please contact Friends Outside at 2923 No. Main St., Walnut Creek, Ca., 94596; telephone, (415) 937-0414.

Office hours are 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Monday through Friday.
